ECKERT'S PROMISE FROM PROSECUTOR

N. J. Officials Told Him That His Service to Country Ended Desire to Prosecute Him on Charge for Which He Is Now Held Here.

Peter Eckert, who was arrested Friday afternoon by Officer Healey on request of the district attorney of Hudson county, New Jersey, on a charge of manslaughter, alleged to have been committed in Jersey City in 1917, when it is alleged an automobile driven by Eckert hit an elderly woman, resulting in her death, has retained ex-Mayor William D. Brinnier as counsel. Eckert claims that he did not hit the woman as alleged.

In 1917, after being released on bail by the Jersey authorities, Eckert went to France with the 23rd Engineers, where he served with the 8th Motor Truck Company. While in France the matter was again brought to his attention when the following letter received from the New Jersey authorities was forwarded to him through military channels. The letter was sent to him in July, 1918, from the commanding officer of Headquarters Company, 23rd Engineers, then stationed at A. P. O. No. 738, France. When the letter was received by Eckert he was with his company at A. P. O. No. 716. The letter, which he retained, is as follows:

June 28, 1918.

To A. A. Peters, Major Engineers, N. A., Acting Adjutant.

Sir:—Regarding Pvt. Peter J. Eckert, Truck Company No. 8, 23rd Engineers, under indictment in this county, inasmuch as this soldier is serving his country in France, we have no desire to prosecute him.

PIERRE P. GARVEN,
Prosecutor of the Pleas, Hudson County, N. J.

Eckert returned to the United States and was honorably discharged from the army and returned to this city to reside. He had been here for practically a year, when on Friday the police were notified to place him under arrest. In compliance with the request from New Jersey, Officer Healey arrested him and he was placed in the county jail to await the action of the Jersey authorities.

1920 TAX RATE TO BE ABOUT $33

An Increase of About 15 Percent Over 1919, Mayor Canfield Explained at Public Hearing on Budget—Proposed Budget Totals $524,654.85.

Kingston's tax rate for 1920, for city, state and county, will be about $33 per thousand valuation according to the statement made by Mayor Canfield Monday evening at the public hearing on the proposed budget for 1920. Less than a dozen residents of the city attended the public hearing held that evening by the mayor, as required by the city charter, and of those who did attend none offered any criticism as to the amount of the budget which shows an increase of about 15 percent over that of 1919, and is due to the gradually mounting cost of living.

The budget for 1919 called for $452,815.89, with a tax rate of $28.50. The proposed budget for 1920 calls for $524,654.85, with a tax rate of about $33 per thousand valuation.

The amount to be raised for the general city tax is $424,175.70, while the state and county tax is $100,479.15, making the total as stated.

Among those present at the hearing were Jay Terry, president, and Fred Winters and John O'Reilly, members of the Kingston Taxpayers Association, Secretary Hudson of the Chamber of Commerce, and Aldermen Watts, Preston, Kullman, and Purvis.

Several present at the hearing asked the mayor what the plans of the board of public works were for 1920, and if they contemplated laying any Willite. The mayor replied that the board had not obtained a price from the Willite concern as yet, and it would all depend on whether the price made was reasonable or not. If the board is made what it considers a fair price it will undoubtedly lay more Willite.

The budget was filed today with the city clerk by the mayor and comes before the common council for adoption at the first regular meeting next year.

Boys of St. James Church.

Wednesday night, December 31, at 8 o'clock, W. G. Mahleman wants to see every boy, large or small, of St. James's Church and Sunday school between the ages of 12 and 18 years, inclusive, in the church parlors of St. James's Church. Everyone who attends is promised an instructive evening and a good time.

No Community Sing This Week.

Owing to the absence from town of Harry P. Dodge, conductor of the Community Sings, there will be no sing held at the High School this week. But after the brief vacation it is hoped that there will be an unusually large attendance next week Tuesday evening.

ARREST BOY ON FORGERY CHARGE

Cecil Osterhoudt, 17 Year Old Negro, Arrested on Charge of Forging And Cashing $8 Check—Held For Grand Jury.

Cecil Osterhoudt, colored, 17 years old, was arrested on a charge of forgery in the second degree this morning. The arrest was made by Sergeant Phinney at the boy's home on Pine street. Cecil is charged with securing a blank check of the National Ulster County Bank, filling it in for $8, making the check payable to himself, and signing it with the name of Harry Banks, a manufacturer of furs at No. 276 Fair street.

The check is dated November 29 of this year and endorsed with the name "Cecil Osterhoudt." The charge is made that Cecil after drawing the check entered the confectionery store of Granville Whittaker at No. 101 Wall street, and had Mr. Whittaker cash the check. Later Mr. Whittaker tendered the check in payment of a bill to C. B. Everett, who accepted it.

Mr. Everett deposited the check in the State of New York Bank, and in due time it was turned over to the National Ulster County Bank, and later returned to Mr. Banks with a number of other canceled checks. Mr. Banks made the discovery that the check was a forgery, and that led to the arrest of Cecil.

This morning the boy was arraigned before Judge Schirick in police court and the charge read. The boy was represented by Chris. J. Flannagan, who entered a plea of not guilty on his behalf, and waived examination to await the action of the grand jury.

Judge Schirick fixed the bail at $300 which was furnished.

MRS. HOLMAN GIVEN DECISION

Ellenville Resident Awarded $4,300 And Interest in Action to Recover From Forrester For Loss in Stock Transaction.

Justice G. D. B. Hasbrouck has handed down a decision in the case of Holman against Forrester, directing judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $4,300 with interest from October 1, 1914. Mrs. Holman, plaintiff, a resident of Ellenville brought action against the defendant to recover for the amount which she lost through a deal in stock with the defendant.

According to the testimony which was presented before Justice Hasbrouck in special term, Mrs. Holman was the owner of certain valuable stocks which she was receiving dividends from. The defendant Forrester came to Ellenville and interested her in a concern which he claimed was to make large profits from the manufacture of a patented device to be used in illuminated advertising. Not only did Mrs. Holman think, after listening to the story of the defendant, that the device was all that he claimed it to be, but a number of other residents of Ellenville also became interested in it and several thousand dollars beside Mrs. Holman's investment were secured through Mr. Forrester.

The stock proved to be worthless and the company never paid a dividend. Mrs. Holman turned over her valuable stocks in payment for the worthless stock of the new company. The first stock issued to Mrs. Holman by Forrester was in one concern which was to make the signs. Later this stock was returned and other stock in a company of a different name was sent her. At the time it was claimed that the new concern was to manufacture the same article that the first concern was supposed to make.

William D. Brinnier, representing Blake, McAneny, Durham and de Milhau of New York city, appeared for the plaintiff and David C. Godwin with Senator Walton of counsel appeared for the defendant.

The decision in favor of Mrs. Holman may prompt a number of the other Ellenville residents to seek to recover on the same grounds, for their loss through investment in the same stock of the Removable Letter Sign Company.

MANY NEW MEMBERS.

Holy Name Society To Receive 150 On January 4.

One hundred and fifty new members will be received into the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's church Sunday, January 4th, on the feast of the Holy Name. 227 NEW Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS SECURED

Sixty-Four Reported as Result of Drive's Third Week and Confidence is Expressed That Goal of 300 Will Be Reached.

The reports of the workers at the meeting Monday evening shows that the membership of the Central Y. M. C. A. is fast growing. Three of the teams have already reached their mark. The total number of sixty-four applications were received. Owing to the busy times many of the workers have been unable to see the men on the list given them. The final goal is an increase of three hundred new members. The number now stands two hundred and twenty-seven with plenty of good prospects to be seen. Each team will complete its quota of twenty members as quickly as possible and a general report will then be made. The report to date is as follows:

TESTIMONIAL TO DR. BARAGWANATH

Dr. T. H. Baragwanath, the pastor of St James's Methodist Church, was treated to the surprise of his life Monday night at the hands of the officers of the church. A special meeting of the official board was called without his knowledge, but he was asked to attend. Nearly every member was present when the pastor came in. E. W. Kearney called the meeting to order, and W. R. Harrison was made chairman. He called upon Cornelius Treadwell to state the purpose of the meeting. Mr. Treadwell spoke of the work of the pastor and his wife, the harmony of the church, and the warm place which pastor and wife had in the hearts of all the people. Then he stated that they all desired the return of the pastor for another year, and as a token of love, on behalf of the official board, he presented him with an envelope.

For once the pastor of St. James's was almost speechless, as the stage had been carefully set in order to surprise him. He told them, without looking at the contents of the envelope, how much he thought of Kingston and of St. James, informing them that he had lived in Kingston six years, longer than any place since he left his early home. He also assured them that if the bishop saw fit to return him, he would do the best he could. However, he was a loyal Methodist preacher, going where he was sent. When he saw the contents of the package and discovered how "substantial" the sum was, he was more than ever surprised, and on behalf of himself and wife thanked them. After remarks by the president and I. J. Rose, all those present greeted their pastor and wished him all good things for the future.

Catskill Vets Beat Ellenville.

Company "E" basketball team of Catskill defeated the Ellenville team Saturday night in Ellenville by a score of 20 to 19. It was the first defeat Ellenville has suffered on its home court this season. Catskill came from behind in the second half and swept the Ellenville players off their feet. Gallt and Benson featured. New Year's night "E" Company will play Willie McGill's Albany five in the Catskill armory. Score:

40 CASES OF MEASLES HERE

Health Officer Frank A. Johnston stated today, in response to inquiries, that there are about forty cases of measles in Kingston at the present time. The epidemic seems to be confined to the first grade scholars of Public School No. 8.

Measles is a reportable disease, and if a child has the disease it should be reported promptly to the board of health or to the health officer. This is a state and city law. In case the patient is not attended by a physician it is the duty of the parent to report the case.

SALVATION ARMY HOST TO KIDDIES

One Hundred To Be Entertained and Given Presents Tonight At Army Hall and Same Program To Be Repeated Tomorrow.

Tonight Captain and Mrs. Young and the members of the Salvation Army will act as hosts and hostesses to over 100 children at the Army Hall on North Front St. In addition to the entertainment furnished by the young people of the corps each child will be given an orange, box of candy and a toy or some useful article, the latter articles, including candy and oranges being given through the generosity of the people of Kingston. The program will be as follows:

DISAPPOINTMENT FOR STATE WETS

Senator Walters Sees No Hope For Loose Enforcement Legislation Before Jan. 16—Probably Will be No 3 Per Cent Beer Bill Pending Court Decision.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 30.—All hopes for the "wets" that the New York legislature would enact a liberal prohibition enforcement bill prior to January 16, when national prohibition is scheduled to go into effect, were dissipated here today by Senator J. Henry Walters of Syracuse, president pro tem of the state senate.

"There is not the slightest chance for such legislation so early in the session," Senator Walters declared, "because of the procedure. The legislature will undoubtedly adjourn from January 7 to 14 to enable appointment of standing committees and the other routine business necessary to the start of the legislative session."

Senator Walters declined to state whether he will introduce his 3 per cent beer bill at this session. There is a known disposition on the part of some of the legislators and Governor Smith to await final action of the United States supreme court on the question before making a stand for the state.

Children's Christmas at St. John's.

The Sunday school children of St. John's church enjoyed their annual Christmas exercises in the church and parish house on Monday evening. The tree was in the church and while its lights burned brightly, Organist Alton played delightfully appropriate music. In place of the usual address by the rector, Dr. Williams asked the children of the Sunday school to help him with that address, and there were exercises well given by each department of the Sunday school. Following the distribution of presents and candy, a social hour and dancing were enjoyed in the parish house, many members of the congregation being present.

ASK SUPPORT OF THRIFT MOVEMENT

To the People of Ulster County:

We desire to express appreciation and thanks of the Government Loan Organization for the efforts made by all during the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's thrift campaigns. Great progress was made, in fact investments in these securities are being made daily in the 1919 issues. The 1920 W. S. S. and treasury certificates have arrived and will be on sale January 1st. We ask your loyal support behind the government in the 1920 citizens' thrift movement to teach America thrift. The rate of interest for your savings is higher than similar investments, also.

Please buy as many W. S. S. the remaining days of this year as possible in order to make Ulster county near the top in the list of counties in the state.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 30.—Losses were recorded in many issues at the stock market opening today, but there was a better demand in evidence on declines and before the end of the first fifteen minutes the majority of stocks ranged close, or above, yesterday's final prices. Steel Common declined one point to 104⅜, then rallied to 105⅜. Baldwin rose ½ to 111; Republic ½ to 115½; American Locomotive ¾ to 100¾. The leathers lacked support, Central Leather falling to 97⅜. American Hide and Leather Preferred dropped 1½ to 118¼, with a rally to 119. Mexican Petroleum opened up 2 to 212¼. Royal Dutch rose 1¼ to 99¾. Studebaker reflected continued accumulation, advancing 1¼ to 106¼. Crucible Steel fell 4 points to 210.

The tone was heavy in the forenoon due to the money situation, with losses generally ranging from 1 to 2 points. The call money rate opened at 15-percent, the highest renewal rate for the year.

The tone was steady in the afternoon, many issues making good gains. American Woolen rose 12¾ to 151¾; U. S. Rubber to 132; Steel Common to 105⅜; Republic Steel to 116⅞; Baldwin to 117⅞; General Motors to 337 and Mexican Petroleum to 212⅜.

The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE PIG PALACE.

"Often where we lived," said Sir Percival Pork, one of the pigs who had just come to the barnyard, "we used to speak of our home as the pig palace."

"Up to Date."

"That was a nice name," said Brother Bacon.

"Yes," said old Grandfather Porky, "that does sound like a nice name."

"Then, let's call our pen by that name," said Sammy Sausage.

"Good," said Master Pink Pig, "I like the idea, and I'm young and up to date."

"You flatter yourself," said Pinky Pig.

"Oh, well, let him," said Grandfather Porky, "for we have something else to talk about now."

"I would like to use our old name," said Sir Benjamin Bacon.

"The only trouble would be," said Mrs. Pink Pig, "that we don't really live in a palace."

"No," said Ham, "we don't. We live in a pen. I don't believe anyone would call this a palace."

"Because it isn't a palace. It's a pen," squealed Miss Ham.

"And we can't make a palace of it," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

"There is no law against it," said Sir Percival Pork, "and if there were I'd do away with that law and choose a new one in its place."

"That isn't the way laws are usually made, is it?" asked Mrs. Pink Pig. "By one person doing away with one and then choosing another? I didn't know there were laws by number. I thought there were laws made as they were needed to keep folks in order."

"That's the old-fashioned way of thinking about them, but not my way," said Sir Percival Pork.

"Besides," said Sir Benjamin Bacon, "it would be nice to have a new kind of palace."

"Of course," said Sir Percival Pork. "There have been too many of these palaces I've heard of with courtyards and beautiful towers and turrets, and beautiful ladies and gorgeous men.

"Now we should have a change. We should have a change of scenery and people and creatures. We should have a palace of mud, decorated with pig weed and we should have big pigs and little pigs in it instead of ladies and gentlemen.

"We should have a palace of our own, of our own kind, and we wouldn't fuss over it the way some creatures fuss over palaces. We wouldn't bother about sweeping it and polishing the great brass door knockers, for there wouldn't be any brass door knockers."

"But I won't live in a palace which has to be closed at all," said Miss Ham, "and that part of the job would fall back on me, I suppose."

"And upon me," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

"Nonsense," said Sir Percival Pork, "we wouldn't do such a thing as to ask you two to keep the palace clean. We don't want it clean.

"We want a regular pig palace, a new kind, with mud and dirt and nice dirty pigs in it, not any fine kind of a polished up palace of marble walls and shining wooden floors."

"And we'll all behave as creatures would like to behave in palaces if only they dared," said Sir Benjamin Bacon. "We'll dig down in the earth with our good, strong snouts and we'd find delicious grubs.

"Palace of Mud."

"We won't have our meals served on golden platters, but on nice muddy pig-pen tables."

"You mean palace tables," said Sir Percival Pork.

"Yes, palace tables," said Sir Benjamin.

"Well, that sort of a palace is all right. It would only be a change of name," said Miss Ham.

"Yes, that will suit me, too," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

"We wouldn't have any other kind," said Sir Percival. "We would be homesick if we did."

"Very homesick if we did," said Sir Benjamin.

"Very homesick," squealed the rest of the pigs.

"The pig palace or pigpen, which ever we call it, will always be kept homelike for us," ended Grandfather Porky.

Sitting Up Baby.

Mother had left Betty to mind the baby. When she came in later she was screaming and Betty was trying to stuff some paper into its mouth.

"Why, what on earth are you doing to the poor child?" asked mother.

"Well, mother, baby has drank some ink, so I'm trying to get her to eat some blotting paper."

ACCORD.

Accord, Dec. 30.—The local chairman in the recent campaign against tuberculosis in this part of Rochester township reports as follows: Received from sale of Christmas seals, $25; health bonds, $40; total, $65. Purchasers of health bonds were Gross E. Schoonmaker, D. E. Schoonmaker, Charles Anderson, H. L. Devoe, Max Maltz, James Lounsbery, Friend Wilklow, Mrs. Friend Wilklow. The chairman wishes to express her heartiest thanks to all those who helped make the campaign so successful in our locality.

There will be no rural delivery service on New Year's day.

Howard Coddington of Waterbury, Conn., is spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Coddington.

George Davis, tax collector, will be at L. M. Decker's store on Tuesday, December 30, to receive taxes. On January 22 he will be at R. Smith's store.

The community Christmas tree at the Reformed Church Wednesday evening was a success in every way. In spite of the storm the attendance was so large that seats had to be placed in the lecture room. The program was splendidly rendered, and too much praise cannot be given to those who took part, as well as those who did the drilling. Outside of the regular program the features of the evening were the presentation of a purse to Mrs. Frank Gazley, the organist of the Reformed Church, and the presentation of a special token of appreciation to H. M. Eyre, the president of the Fair Association and leader of the community chorus. Of course, Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus were there.

On December 31, New Year's eve, a play by home talent will be given at the Odd Fellows' Hall for the benefit of the M. E. Church. It will be a two act farce entitled "Georgiana's Wedding Gown." Cast of characters as follows: Madge Gilhard the hostess; Jennie Gilbert, Emma Ridly, Virginia Hoyt, guests; Georgianna Clay, the colored bride elect; Aunt Julietta, an old negress. Locality, a country village. Time of play, 1 hour, 45 minutes. Refreshments will be served after the entertainment. Come with your friends.

The census enumerator has left a number of the farm schedules at the post office, where the farmers will be able to obtain them and acquaint themselves with the questions in order to answer them intelligently when the enumerator calls some time after January 2.

Most of the men from this place who are employed at Weehawken spent Christmas at home.

W. H. Palmer of Ellenville spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Palmer.

Fred Irwin was injured while coasting Friday.

W. W. Bush and John C. Bush former residents of this place, called on friends Friday.

Edward Davenport and Nellie Davenport of Cornell University are spending their holidays at home.

H. L. Devoe's stone crushing plant has resumed operations after an idleness of several months because of engine trouble.

PINE HILL.

Pine Hill, Dec. 29. The Christmas tree and social at the M. E. hall was well attended. Among the many presents received was one to Rev. J. E. Sargeant, a beautiful Morris chair, given by some of his many friends.

There will be a pig roast and oyster supper, [illegible] contest, to be followed by a watch night service on New Year's eve. Supper commencing at 7 o'clock. The pastor's subject at the watch night service will be, "Looking Backward" and he will be assisted by out of town speakers. Be sure and help us to let in the New Year. The pastor's subject on Sunday, January 4, will be "Looking forward." Come and join with us in service on the first Sunday in the New Year at 7:30.

The funeral service of the late Mrs. Dutcher was conducted by her pastor, Rev. S. E. Sargeant, at the Big Indian M. E. Church on Tuesday, December 23. Interment at Shandaken cemetery. Our deepest sympathy to all the bereaved.

One person was baptized in the Big Indian M. E. Church on Sunday, December 28. Others are expected to join at the other churches later. May the good work continue.

BRODHEADS.

Brodheads, Dec. 29. The Brodhead school Christmas entertainment which was given by Miss Orpha Oakley was largely attended. All who did not attend this missed an enjoyable evening.

A number of young people from this place attended the entertainment at Winchell's school on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen were home to spend Christmas with their parents.

We are all sorry that [illegible] Bishop and family have moved away for the winter.

WOMAN'S GROWING POWERS.

Some rather cynical observers are of the opinion that women rule in practically everything already, dominating men completely and leaving them free only in the exercise of their talents for collecting dollars. But woman's command now is but a shadow of what it will be when she really comes into her rightful kingdom. Then, declares the sharp pen of Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, she will "refuse to marry men who are unfit," the fitness of the men of every community presumably being passed upon by a council of feminine soviets, who will mark man's comings out and goings in, consider his habits, his weight, his diet, his passion for cigars, as well as his capacity for collecting the dear dollars so approved by feminine judges with a cultivated gift for spending. Of course individual women have always done a part of this, but the future is to have its systematic supervision by order of a grand council.

Obviously it will rest also with women to decide also whether a husband is fit after trial and whether he should be turned adrift. A woman out in California now demands divorce on the ground that her husband failed to live up to the new social requirements consequent upon inheriting an income of $12,000 a year. Possibly he weakly elected to stick to his toothpick and his pipe while she heroically mortified the flesh in an anxious effort to do all she had ever heard of being done "in society." Some might venture to think that she thus displeased him as much as he disgusted her by his stubborn inclination to remain himself, but that's nothing because a woman does not enter her true kingdom until she assumes her rightful place as sole judge. There is no question of the unfitness of women because they are all fit from birth. Only man is in need of uplift and only women can do the uplifting. The future man who does not win a diploma of fitness will not only have to remain a bachelor but get out of town.

A Tammany Democrat has been governor of New York state for one year. The people probably realize this without being told. What has been done under his administration can be printed in one word—nothing. But as to recommendations, and the appointment of commissions to take over the work of the legislature and constitutional offices of the state, Governor Smith has made a record. He went so far that the people are now ready to trust their affairs into the hands of those who can be held accountable rather than in the hands of those who are irresponsible and answerable to nobody. It has always been said that commissions are the most inefficient but the most expensive form of government. About the most they do is make reading matter for one edition.

Every man and woman, and child who has reached the age of reason, can help make the year 1920 better than 1919. All that is necessary is to try and do something that will count. Some can do more than others but everybody can do a little. By enlisting now immeasurable good will result, and there seems to be in all of us a growing disposition to assist. Great means are not required to do ones share because there is something everyone can do to contribute his or her mite. The new year will offer its problems, but if we all try to do what we can, sanely and in the spirit of unselfishness, it is certain that progress will be made. That there will be a complete adjustment of every social and industrial difference of opinion is out of the range of reason for human nature cannot be changed.

Strikes in 1919, according to the New York Sun's estimate, cost labor about a billion dollars and capital and the public in general about two billions. Many wars have been put through for less.

A youth of 17 at Ellis Island for deportation as an incendiary says the [illegible] took out of the New York [illegible] made him an anarchist. [illegible] may not be true, but it is true that library committees choose many books on hearsay, to read and judge them all being out of the question.

A stream near Philadelphia known as the Brandywine since the days of George Washington has fallen into disrepute, it is reported, local reformers being eager to change the disgraceful name to Lemon Soda Run or Ginger Ale Creek.

Eighty-six thousand Americans have applied for passports to Cuba. There has also been a great run on passports to Bermuda. Practically all of the passport seekers are no doubt city dwellers. The country dweller finds it less trouble and less expensive to buy a separator and apply it on apple cider.

Lieut. Kilefoth, who spent three years in Russia in the American Intelligence Service, says that the soviet government "has reduced university education to a joke by admitting all comers, regardless of qualifications," many entering who can not even read. The method is characteristic of Bolshevism, which plunges on its way regardless.

YERRY GETS ANOTHER.

Woodland Hunter Kills Another Catskill Bear.

No doubt many hunters remember the hunting trip which Claude Yerry, of Woodland, took two years ago, when he bagged eight bears. He got all his game in the Catskills, so he decided to go at it again this year.

Well, on Friday, December 19th, he got out bright and early to look for tracks. He soon found a bear's trail on Panther Mountain, and discovered that two other hunters were after the animal.

With true sportsman's instinct, Claude was about to leave the bear to the others, when suddenly the animal leaped from some nearby brush and started down the mountain at a rate of speed that would make Officers Soper or Walker think they were going backwards on their motorcycles.

"If I don't get this bear, nobody will," thought Yerry, and sent four shots from his Winchester after the animal. She (as the animal was a female) continued but soon fell from the wounds.

This bear had fooled the other hunters, (they were at the top of the mountain by this time), but had come too close to Yerry—and he is a goood man for bears to keep away from.

Probably before the close of the season, Yerry will have shot a few more bears.

SHADY.

Shady, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Hannah Reynolds entertained at dinner on Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds, F. M. Hoyt, Fred Reynolds and Gerald Reynolds.

Miss Frances Vosburgh of New York city arrived home Wednesday to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vosburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln MacDaniel entertained at the Shady View House for dinner on Christmas Rev. A. Van Dermeer, Mr. and Mrs. Barnett MacDaniel and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. DuBois.

On Tuesday evening, December 23, the Shady school children, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Charlotte Wager, gave a most enjoyable Christmas entertainment, consisting of playlets, recitations, solos, etc. At the conclusion Santa Claus made his appearance and distributed presents to all the scholars. The school room was prettily decorated with Christmas green and on the platform stood a large Christmas tree artistically trimmed by the teacher and scholars. The room was crowded to its full capacity with parents, relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stone spent Christmas with his parents at Wittenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer Vosburgh spent Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. Harry Rowe in Poughkeepsie.

Friday, December 26, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vosburgh entertained to tea Rev. A. Van Dermeer and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. DuBois. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln MacDaniel, Ferris MacDaniel and Fred Reynolds called. The evening was spent in games, songs, etc., and at a late hour a buffet lunch was served. Those who participated gave on departing a vote of thanks to the hostess for her hospitality.

Dec. 30, 1899.—Death of Supervisor Robert S. Jones, of town of Hardenbergh.

William Mickel killed by fall at Glasco ice house.

Death of Mrs. Emory Beauchamp in East Kingston.

Dec. 30, 1909.—Referee Amos Van Etten decided that Receiver Wilkinson could sell New York Car and Truck Company.

Mrs. Peter DuBois died at Sleightsburgh, aged 54 years.

Sheriff-elect Henry J. Hoffman announced appointment of Archibald McLaughlin as under sheriff, and reappointed Seth Jocelyn as jailer.

Accidental Fortune.

Blotting paper was discovered by accident. Silver sand was originally used, but in a paper factory a workman once accidentally forgot to put on the sizing. The proprietor picked up a piece of the paper, but was annoyed to find that it was soaking up the ink. He at once entertained the idea that the paper would be useful for "blotting."

COUNTY COURT NOTICE.

The People of the State of New York, to the Sheriff of the County of Ulster, Greeting:—You are hereby commanded to summon the several persons who shall have been drawn in your county, to serve as jurors, at a County Court, to be held in and for your county, at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, in said county, on Monday, the 12th day of January, 1920, to appear thereat, to bring before the said court all prisoners then being in the jail of your county, together with all processes and proceedings any way concerning them in your hands, and make proclamation in manner prescribed by law, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said court by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners, and other officers who have taken recognizance for the appearance of any person at such court, or who have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the court at the opening thereof on the first day of its sitting.

Witness, Hon. Joseph M. Fowler, Esquire, County Judge of Ulster County, at the Court House in Kingston, this 12th day of December, 1919.

F. G. TRAVER,
District Attorney.

PROCLAMATION.—State of New York, Ulster County, ss.: The undersigned, Sheriff of said County, in conformity to a precept in this behalf directed and delivered, by this his proclamation, requires all persons bound to appear at the County Court, to be held in and for the said County of Ulster, at Kingston, in said county, on Monday, the 12th day of Jan., 1920, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat. And he requires all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers, who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at said court, or who have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any person or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said court at the opening thereof on the first day of its sitting.—Signed at the sheriff's office in said county December 12th, 1919.

STATE HOSPITAL IS OVERCROWDED

Middletown Institution Reported To Be Caring For 400 Surplus Patients And To Be Short 100 Employees.

An overcrowding of nearly 400 patients beyond the rated capacity, and a shortage in help of 100 employees, is the serious situaton at the Middletown State Hospital to which Henry Kingsley Wilcox, of Middletown, calls attention, as the result of his visit to that institution as a representative of the State Charities Aid Association. In the medical staff alone, at the time of his visit, there was a shortage of eleven doctors. Insufficient wages is the apparent cause of this inability to secure an adequate staff. The need for additional employees is the more urgent in view of the fact that a new half-million dollar building for incurables is now in course of construction.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Dec. 29.—Christmas in this village meant "The Day," the day before and the day after. On the day before, the village school held one of its most successful entertainments. The teachers had exerted themselves to the utmost, while the scholars on their part did themselves proud. The school walls were covered with evergreens making a very attractive effect; in one corner stood a big Christmas tree. Of course there was a Santa Claus, who distributed candy and remembrances. The teachers, Mrs. Leverich and Miss Metcalf, were also the recipients of pleasing remembrances from the scholars, not the least being two handsome baskets of fruit, most artistically and charmingly arranged. The audience enjoyed every minute of the entertainment and carried away the memory of most pleasing exercise. The program was as follows:

Chorus by the School—"Long, Long Ago."
Recitation by Christopher Lamphear—"When Christmas Comes."
Recitation by Anna Brown—"Charitable."
Song by Irene Snyder—"On Christmas Morn."
Recitation by Sarah Brink—"Tom's Christmas Surprise."
Recitation by Philip Scully—"Small But Useful."
Duet by the Misses Thielpape—"His Natal Morn."
Dialogue by Hilda Lockwood, Anna Brown and Joseph Lamphear—"Miss Prim's Christmas."
Recitation by John Scully—"A Big Word."
Song by Irene Snyder, Mina Malcolm, Nita Snyder—"Happy Christmas Snowflakes."
Recitation by Mina Malcolm—"Auntie Brown's Christmas Shopping Advice."
Recitation by Earl Wright—"Without His Wig."
Chorus by the School—"Sleep My Child."
Recitation by Anna Brown—"A Schemer."
Song by Mina Malcolm, Irene Snyder and Nita Snyder—"Jingle Bells."
Recitation by Nita Snyder—"Good Night."
Chorus by the School—"Silent Night"

"The Day" was one of unalloyed pleasure for all the village. About every family was complete in its membership and the good things provided by the home people were enjoyd and relished by the home comers to the limit. Santa Claus had a big sackful, in fact must have had several such by the way packages were being carried along the street while the post office was never so busy with Christmas mail as this year. The younger element enjoyed the skating on the Binnekill. The weather clerk was at his happiest and handed out perfect winter weather.

The day after saw the Sunday school exercises in the church. As the symbol for the season was white and green evergreens formed the basis of the decorations against the white background thus forming a mighty pleasing effect. These exercises were held in the evening but that was no bar to the attendance for the audience room was filled completely. The children taking part furnished a deal of interest, pleasure and amusement to the audience. The program was as follows:

Singing by the School—Opening Chorus.
Reading of the Scripture—Luke 2, 1-14, by Ralph Hiller.
Prayer by the Pastor, Mr. Durfee.
Song by Mrs. Durfee's Class.
Greeting by Master Dixon.
Song by Charlottee Thielpape—"On Christmas Morn."
Exercise by the Misses Pilz—"What Can I Give to Jesus?"
Recitation by Harriett Dixon—"My Gift."
Christmas Exercise by the Little Folk "Christmas Aid Society."
Solo by Jennie Thielpape—"Was It You?"
Recitation by Elizabeth DeWitt—"What Does It Mean to You?"
Song by Mina Malcolm, Irene Snyder and Nita Snyder—"Jingle Bells."
Recitation by Anna Brown.
Song by the Boys—"We Three Kings of Orient Are."
Duet by the Misses Thielpape.
Dialogue—Christmas Fairy Story.
Address by the Pastor.
Offering.
Closing Song—"It Came Upon a Midnight Clear."

Although Santa Claus was not present in person, still he had not forgotten the occasion and with marvellous foresight and insight knew to whom to give, what to give and how and when and where. The exercises in the church were hardly over when the whole company was invited to the social observances in the Sunday school room; this room had been tastefully decorated by the decorations that reached one the most was the tables spread for the inner man. Ice cream, cake and oranges all in plenty for all. As the idea had been to make this a community affair, every effort was also made to realize this feature; it was a success in every way. May we have many such days and successes.

Of course there must be an aftermath to every good thing; this one is the fact that the tax collector will sit in the town hall of this village for the collection of taxes on January 6 and January 20.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

2718—A New Frock For Mother's Girl.

This design will develop equally well in wash or woolen goods. The front forms a panel, and is finished with an inserted vest. In front, the panel is joined to the skirt in deep plaits. The sleeve may be in wrist or elbow length.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 10 will require 4 yards of 27 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or 1c and 2c stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

ATTITUDE OF AMERICAN LEGION

Veterans Oppose Radicalism, German Opera By Germans and Anti-American Propaganda But Will Act In Orderly and Dignified Manner.

The attitude which The American Legion in New York state must take upon the question of radical meetings, German performances and anti-American entertainments was discussed at great length at a meeting of the State Executive Committee at state headquarters on December 20 and the following platform adopted:

"While it is essential that The American Legion take a firm stand for Americanism and against every form of radicalism and propaganda aimed at our fundamental institutions, all local posts are at the same time bound to maintain law and order. The action of the local post at Centralia, Washington, in urging the preservation of law and order—and it should be remembered that this appeal was made in spite of the fact that their own men had been murdered in cold blood—should set an example for the whole country.

"Apathy on the part of lawmakers and those whose duty it is to enforce the law may be galling to service men used to action, but in the end, we are serving our country best by taking action in a quiet and dignified way. Eventually the public will support us in this attitude. As a minority in the state, we can merely put forward our opinions without attempting to dictate to the community. Every community in the state is ready and willing to listen to and back the opinions of the men who served and those who have suffered the loss of their sons and brothers and husbands in the war.

"It can be stated unqualifiedly that while the local posts throughout the state have strenuously opposed radical meetings and German opera in German or other concerts where enemy aliens have performed, their opposition has in every case brought to our attention been orderly and dignified. Owing to our public opposition, we have been in some cases blamed for disorder but in no case has this been deserved. In at least one case where the Legion was blamed for a demonstration, it was publicly acknowledged and proven that young college students who let their youthful enthusiasm run away with their better judgment were responsible.

"Questions having arisen in a number of cases throughout the state as to the attitude of The Legion in this state regarding German opera, attention is called to the following resolution passed at Minneapolis:

"'Resolved, That The American Legion condemn any attempts at this time to resume relationship with German activities and lends its influences against the resumption of German opera, instruction of German in the schools, public performance of German and Austrian performers, and any other act which tends to minimize the German guilt.'

"This resolution expresses the collective opinion of the delegates in the country as a whole. While certain parts of the country may feel that the resolution is too conservative, others may feel that it is too drastic. Our course should and must be sane and our action orderly. Above all, it must not go to ridiculous extremes.

"The great majority of service men and the public are almost solidly behind us in our opposition to German opera and concepts of German spirit and personnel. Many have made objection to having enemy aliens perform in their communities and in some cases in halls where the names of loved ones who made the supreme sacrifice are inscribed on the walls.

"On the other hand, we should not oppose, as such, German opera and Hungarian music where the spirit, the language and the personnel are truly American and where no attempt is made through advertising or publicity to arouse the pro-German feeling that would minimize their defeat or their guilt. Many of us who would bitterly oppose hearing German opera, given and managed by Huns whose spirit is still one of defiance, would, if the opportunity offers, enjoy good music regardless of the nationality of the composer, provided the auditors were convinced of the thorough-going Americanism of management and performers.

"Good music, whether it be by Wagner, Strauss or Sousa cannot and should not be killed—and any attempt to suppress it is bound to fail. At the same time, attempts to use music as a cloak for German propaganda and as a setting for the placing of German Kultur before the public in it most favorable light must be opposed. German guilt must not be minimized by either music or fair words.

"If all posts and county organizations will pursue this moderate policy, it is believed we will have public opinion solidly behind us on this and many other questions, because the community will soon learn that they can rely on our sanity and moderation.

"We are certain that it will not be necessary to recommend the disciplining of any local body for hasty and ill-considered actions. We do urge, however, that posts take this matter up at meetings and urge all individuals—both those who have already joined The Legion and those who have not—to assume the personal responsibility for conducting themselves in a way that will not reflect on the good name of The American Legion and service men in general.

"As an organization, we should endeavor to carry out the spirit of the national resolution sanely and legally. Some of us may be lovers of music and feel that the resolution infringes on our rights. On the other hand, no one of us desires to offend the sensibilities of even a small minority who have suffered greatly so recently and who naturally feel bitter about everything German or [illegible] On this platform, we will stand despite the criticism of those who would have us forget the war as quickly as possible because they were never in favor of our going into the war against Germany."

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Dec. 29.—William H. Decker has announced to relatives and friends the marriage of his daughter Clara Bearsdley Count Decker and Harold Stanley Patterson on Thursday, December twenty-fifth, 1919, at Ellenville, New York. The wedding occurred at the M. E. parsonage at 6 o'clock in the afternoon of Christmas day. Rev. Charles A. Dann solemnized the marriage ceremony. They were attended by the groom's sister and his friend, Edwin B. Fuller. The young people left following the ceremony on 7:10 train for Kingston and from there on a honeymoon trip known to themselves. The bride is one of the very attractive and popular young ladies of the village and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson of Beacon, N. Y., but is well known in town for some time a clerk in Patterson and Schoonmaker's drug store. At the time of his enlistment in U. S. service he was a student at the school of Pharmacy at Columbia University, New York. He has received his honorable discharge and again at Columbia to finish the course. The young people will reside for the present in New York. A large circle of friends extend to both bride and groom very hearty congratulations with best wishes for future happiness and prosperity.

Miss Rose Clearwater very delightfully entertained a company of friends at her home on Hermance street Christmas night with games and music, dancing and a fine course of refreshments. The entire company spent a very enjoyable evening with their friend who is at present a student at Spencer's Business College at Kingston, N. Y.

A fine basket ball game was played at Norbury Hall Friday evening. The Catskill Company E. played the Pioneers and the score 39-20 in favor of Catskill. A crowded house greeted the players and it was one well attended and enjoyed by everybody. Dancing followed the game, with Shurter's orchestra of Kingston for the music which was also enjoyed by many who did not dance. This orchestra is very popular in Ellenville.

3 Million Dollars
but—
It bought MUSIC

No finer example of courage is known to the world of science than Thomas A. Edison's work in perfecting the phonograph. The skeptics rose in full chorus when he proposed a better phonograph,—an instrument "that could produce music as human as the artists who first gave it utterance."

MR. EDISON'S EXPERIMENTS EXHAUSTED THE ENTIRE FIELD OF RESEARCH IN SOUND REPRODUCTION. HE BUILT AND REBUILT UNTIL HIS FINAL PERFECTED MODEL COST HIM THREE MILLION DOLLARS.

And the result?

Ask some one who attended the Alice Verlet recital Tuesday evening, December 2. There was the public proof. Miss Verlet sang in comparison with the RE-CREATION of her voice by the New Edison. And no one could distinguish the living voice from its RE-CREATION.

The NEW EDISON

"THE PHONOGRAPH WITH A SOUL."

If you love music, you will agree with Tuesday's enthusiastic audience—The New Edison represents Three Million Dollars well spent. The soul of song is cheap at any price. Yet it is now brought within reach of your pocketbook. The instrument used in Tuesday's conclusive test is a duplicate of Mr. Edison's Three Million Dollar Model. It sells for $[illegible] (In Canada, $[illegible].)

INCREASE LIFE OF MOTOR CARS

Unsatisfactory Service Sure to Follow Improper Lubrication and Neglect.

CAREFUL USE IS IMPORTANT

Owners Should Learn Details of Machine and Make Adjustments—Never Allow Idle Engine to Race—Use Cold Water to Wash.

One will very soon become accustomed to all of the noises the car makes, and any strange sound, be it ever so slight, will be immediately perceptible.

Much of the satisfaction that an automobile gives depends upon the driver. If he neglects his automobile, if he does not lubricate it, or if he tinkers with it too much, he is bound to receive unsatisfactory service. No machine can be absolutely automatic. All things must wear in time. The best preventive of wear, and the most certain thing to increase the life of a motor car, is lubrication. An automobile is like any piece of machinery, and will not keep in good running condition without a reasonable amount of care. The life of a car can be cut in two by neglect, or doubled by careful use.

Lubrication of Car Important.

One should become thoroughly familiar with all the lubricating points of the car. The lubrication of the car should be given regular attention. If this is done, there will be no complaint due to the car becoming noisy or from bearings wearing out. Satisfaction would be greatly increased if every owner would learn the details of the machine, that is, learn to make the simple examinations and adjustments. One should not depend on some one else to do that which is so simply done and which one can get much satisfaction in doing. One should familiarize himself with every detail of his car, know the mechanism, and he will have great confidence in venturing farther in the way of tours. Never allow an engine to race when it is idle. When there is no load on the engine it will vibrate unduly at high speeds, which causes excessive strains and makes the engine and the car noisy. Racing the engine, when driving, can be avoided by learning to use the foot accelerator in the proper manner in relation to the clutch and gear shifts.

Washing the Car.

The car should be washed before the mud has a chance to dry. If a hose is used, the stream should be tempered, or, better still, the nozzle should be taken off and a slow stream used. Always use cold water, as warm water will injure the varnish. After washing off the mud, take a sponge, well filled with water, and dash it gently against the surface. Never rub the surface when washing, as it is sure to scratch the polished surface.

After the removal of the mud, any grease on the finish should be removed by washing with suds of a pure white soap. This should be done with a soft sponge and as little rubbing as possible. After washing with the soap, and rinsing with cold water, the finish should be rubbed dry and polished with a chamois. The car should not be left standing in the bright sunlight, as it will dry too rapidly and be streaked.

Care of the Top.

Care should be taken to see that no dust, dirt, mud or grease is allowed to remain either on the inside or outside of the car top. The outside can usually be cleaned off with a dry, stiff brush, or, in bad cases, with soap and water, applied with a sponge. Gasoline, kerosene or naphtha will cause the rubber in the fabric of the top to disintegrate and finally leak. After the top has been washed it should be rinsed off with clean water and permitted to dry.

The inside of the top may also be cleaned with a sponge. A top should never be put down or covered while wet. It should be thoroughly dry.

NEGLECT OF OWNERS WILL INJURE AUTOS

Proper Lubrication Is of Utmost Importance.

Drivers Gradually Form Habit of Doing Everything on High Speed in Shifting Gears—Inspect Car Every Week.

There are many ways in which a car may be unintentionally mistreated, just as there are many ways in which one's own health may be violated to the injury of one's system.

The first point is quite familiar to most motorists, and that is the question of proper lubrication. Still every dealer knows that cars continue to be brought in with bearings burned out, king bolts badly worn and other parts of the car in more or less damaged condition from under-lubrication. Oil should not be used too long, because after a time it loses much of its lubricating qualities. This is an especially important item to watch now, because good lubricating oil is not always available at all filling stations.

Another point is the shifting of gears and the use of gears in hard pulling. It should be borne in mind that all motors have excess power because of the extent to which the valve-in-head principle of design has been developed, and because of this surplus power drivers, as a class, gradually form the habit of not shifting to lower speeds, but do everything on high.

After a time they gradually grow to hate the idea of dropping to lower speeds, as if it were a reflection on the car or on the driver's ability. This is a condition that should not exist.

These same ideas apply to practically all of the little things that may happen to motor cars in general service. A weekly inspection will do a great deal toward getting the utmost serviceability out of a car. The owner who does not have time or inclination to attend to these things himself will do well to see that they are done by some one who is thoroughly competent. They do not take much time, and the man who is mechanically inclined will derive much pleasure in becoming more familiar with the various working units of his car.

A good motor car responds wonderfully to good treatment, not only from the standpoint of satisfaction, but also from that of giving the owner the full amount of transportation that has been built into his car.

ELECTRIC CIRCUIT CONTROL

Mechanism Provides Cut-Off for Automobile Engine Which Is Operated Automatically.

An automatic ignition control mechanism, the invention of W. M. Edmont of Duluth, Minn., is illustrated and described in the Scientific American as follows:

The invention relates to electric circuit controlling mechanism for use in connection with the ignition circuit of an automobile engine. An object is to provide an ignition cut-off for an automobile engine which is operatively combined with the throttle valve operating mechanism in such a manner that upon closing the throttle, the ignition circuit is automatically broken, rendering the engine "dead" and causing it to run against the compression in the cylinders thus providing an effective brake.

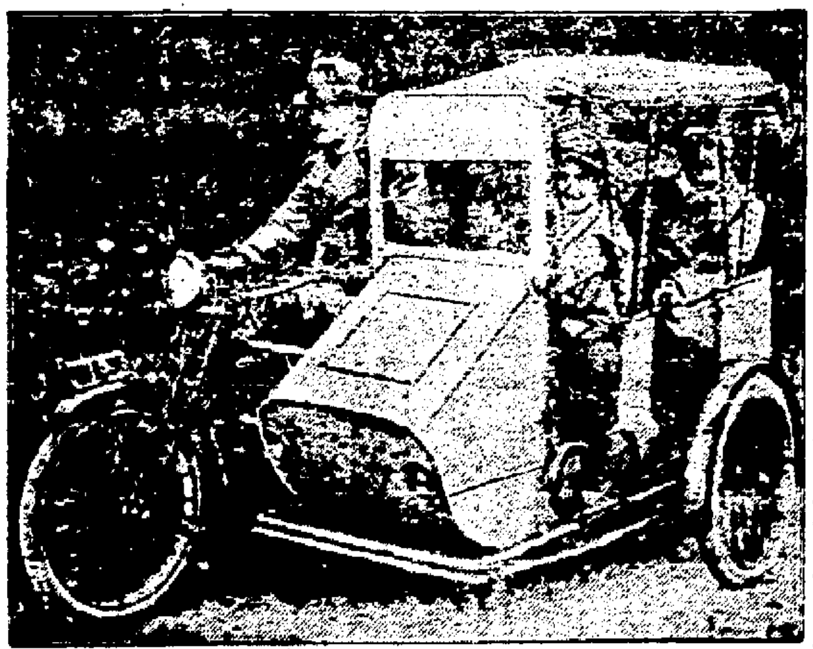
SIDE-CAR MOTORCYCLE TAXIS IN LONDON



The photo shows a side car designed for public service work and which fulfills the regulations of Scotland Yard. In Paris a taxi side car has also been inaugurated, but is only to carry one passenger. The above, or English side car, carries two persons with comfort. It is absolutely wind and weather proof. The charge is suggested at six pence a mile in comparison with the Paris charge of seven and one-half pence.

Barren Palestine.

There are practically no minerals, no coal, no iron, no copper, no silver in Palestine, though recently some oil wells have been discovered in the Jordan valley. Neither are there any large forests, though the land may have been better wooded in the days of Joshua than now.

A "Rattling" Good Car.

At the sale of government cars recently held in London one of the cars was described as a "rattling" good one. It is said that the sale included a tame squirrel trained to run behind and pick up the falling nuts. Truly English humor is of a more gentle kind than ours.—Living Age.

SUBSTITUTES FOR MEAT.

Certain foods are well suited to replace meat at the breakfast table. Potato appears at dinner 365 times a year, so it is a good idea to bar it from the first meal of the day unless used in hash.

Fried Egg Plant.—Slice the egg plant in slices one-third of an inch thick, pare, put into a deep dish and cover with cold water well salted. Soak one hour. Drain, wipe, dip in egg and crumbs and fry brown.

Corn Oysters.—Use canned cornlet, if the fresh corn is not obtainable. By scoring deeply with sharp knife, the inside of the kernel may be pressed out and used. Use two cupfuls of corn, half a cupful of milk, one cupful of sifted flour, two eggs, a teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful each of butter and lard. Beat the yolks of the eggs, add the milk, the flour and salt. Beat to a smooth batter, add the corn, then beat again, adding the stiffly beaten whites the last. Put the lard and butter into a frying pan and when very hot put into the batter by small spoonfuls. Brown on one side, then turn. If the batter is too thick add more milk, the thinner the batter the more delicate and tender the oysters will be.

Eggs in Cream Sauce.—Make a rich white sauce, using two tablespoonfuls of butter and one and one-half of flour cooked together, then add a cupful of thin cream and cook until smooth. Toast bread crisp and brown; butter well. Add two hard-cooked eggs, chopped, to the white sauce and pour over the toast. Serve at once.

Baked Eggs and Mushrooms.—Take one pound of fresh mushrooms, clean and wipe dry. Put into a saucepan with four tablespoonfuls of butter, half a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Set over the fire till thoroughly hot, then turn into a shallow baking dish and break over them six eggs. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and dust with pepper and salt. Bake in a hot oven till the eggs are set. Serve on buttered toast.

Johnny's Mistake.

Johnny went to answer the door bell and replied to a woman's inquiries that his mother was out. "Thank you, I will leave my card," she said, taking out her purse. As she did so the square tissue paper that was with the card fluttered out and landed on the steps. "Hey, missis," shouted Johnny, after the departing caller, "you dropped a cigarette paper."—Pittsburgh Post.

CARRY YOUR OWN SUGAR, IS THE LATEST, [illegible]

A new fashion has apparently descended upon New York, and, should the present sugar shortage continue, may spread throughout the country. "That's my sugar box," answers pretty Miss Helen Jeurick, when asked about the cute velvet box she carries. "I always carry it with me when I go to restaurants and cabarets. And it can be made useful as well as ornamental, for whenever I dine out I carry sugar enough for use in restaurants which have been hit by the shortage." The sugar box fashion was suggested by the "Le Sucrier," or "sugar carrier," which was popular in Paris during the war.

Accommodating Lightning.

Sometimes lightning performs rather comical freaks. It has been recorded that a certain mansion in Wales had been struck by lightning, which saved the servants the trouble of lighting a fire! The chimney was struck and the fuel laid in one of the grates was kindled.

Ancient Hygienic Rules.

The Hindus had rules of hygiene, but public health appears always to have been unconsidered in China as it is today. They knew in antiquity the inoculation against smallpox and the importance of good water, some of their wells being 1,500 feet deep and very old.

CLAIM WATERS KICKED A BOY

Francis A. Waters, Jr., Arrested on Charge of Assault—Robert Buley, 8 Years Old, Claims Mr. Waters Hit Him and Kicked Him in Hip.

Francis A. Waters, Jr., was arrested by Sergeant Phinney Monday afternoon and arraigned before Judge Schirick in police court. Mr Waters was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Sarah Buley, of No 405 Hasbrouck avenue, who claims that Mr. Waters on Sunday afternoon hit her son in the face, knocking him down, and then as the boy lay on the ground kicked him twice in the left hip. It was also claimed that the boy's sled was broken by Mr. Waters jumping on it

Mr. Waters pleaded not guilty. Bail was fixed at $300, which was furnished and the hearing adjourned until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock

From statements made by the boy and his mother, he was playing on the Waters pond, off Lawrence street, Sunday afternoon with his hand sled Waters ordered him off the pond and he left Then Waters chased him and when he caught up with the boy the alleged assault took place.

The mother brought the boy's broken sled to police court to show how it was damaged.

Another boy, Edward Cox, also made an affidavit testifying to about the same set of facts as the boy and his mother. Cox was skating on the pond at the time of the alleged assault.

The auditorium tonight will present Lila Lee in "Rustling a Bride," current news events, and, tomorrow, Edythe Sterling in "The Arizona Catclaw."

Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo's laughing landslide will make its annual visit at the Opera House tonight with Lois Bolton and the special company. "Twin Beds" is a jovial, rollicking comedy with a crowded apartment house as its scene, the complexities of life shared too closely with the neighbors as the framework of its action and an intensely amusing human group of people as its portrait gallery. Its lines flash with fun with fresh wit and new coined slang and its merit of clean wholesomeness shines benignly over characters, lines and situations. Theatrical records attest that "Twin Beds" is one of the two emphatic standing comedy hits.

Boy Scouts Busy.

Besides helping out the merchants as messenger boys the Boy Scouts both in the city and in the county have been busy in delivering the new telephone directories for the New York Telephone Company. They have delivered 3,196 receiving a small compensation for each delivery.

TWO KILLED IN ETERNAL TRIANGLE

Newburgh Paramour Killed After Shooting Woman He Loved and Her Husband.

In an altercation following the refusal of Mrs. Louis D'Argenio to desert her husband and accompany him, Anthony D'Sanci Sunday night shot Mr. and Mrs. D'Argenio in their home in Newburgh, and was himself shot by Mrs. D'Argenio in defense of her husband. D'Sanci was rushed to St. Luke's Hospital but died soon after arriving there. D'Argenio died Monday morning from his wounds. The woman will recover.

Information acquired by the police is to the effect that Mrs. D'Argenio and D'Sanci had had an "affair," but that she had repented, had been forgiven by her husband and was endeavoring to atone for the past when D'Sanci sought to resume his old relations. The police knew of D'Sanci's threat to shoot the couple and for hours had been engaged in a search for him, but he eluded them, managing to get to the D'Argenio home without interference.

William J. Kelliher, who, as "Big Bill" Kelliher, was sentenced to eighteen years in the Federal Penitentiary at Fort Lavenworth, Kan., is at his home in Boston after having served about one-half of his long sentence. Keliher declares that his son, who is an altar boy in a church at Needham, Mass., is responsible for his freedom. The pastor of the church took quite an interest in the lad, and for his sake interested Senator David O. Walsh in the case of the boy's father. Keliher was sentenced for rigging fake races and stacking faro games in New York to fleece George W. Coleman, a low-salaried clerk of the National City Bank of Cambridge, of $390,000 of the bank's funds. Coleman was sentenced to serve fifteen years in jail after he pleaded guilty, but was paroled three years ago.

THREE 8 ROUND FIGHTS THURSDAY

And a Four Round Preliminary New Year's Afternoon in Griffiths's Hall—Kingston Athletic Club Bringing Fast Fighters Here.

As a New Year's afternoon attraction for the sporting fans of Kingston the Kingston Athletic Club has arranged one of the finest fighting cards ever seen in this city. There will be three eight round main fights and a four round preliminary to open the show. Such fighters as Vincent Coffey, Al Tueth, Charles Pinkleton, Young Jim Jeffries, Young Jack Mooney and Young Jack Dempsey will be seen in action that afternoon. The program starts promptly at 3 o'clock, and doors will be open at 2:30 o'clock.

Vincent Coffey of this city and Al Tueth, the Newark whirlwind, will stage the main bout of eight rounds. Vince is making a record for himself along the river, and Tueth is said to be equally as good. A warm fight may be expected.

Charles Pinkleton of New York city who will clash with Young Jim Jeffries of Newark, is the former amateur champion at his weight, and has now entered the professional ranks. Pinkleton is said to be a classy fighter. Every fan who has attended previous bouts here knows that Young Jeffries can be depended upon to put up a real fight.

Young Jack Dempsey of Newark who made such a hit at the last smoker here when he clashed with Sapper Cohen, will step eight rounds with Young Jack Mooney of Newark. He was to have met Young Sharkey, but Sharkey was unable to make the weight.

Fans will go a long ways before they could see a better fight card than the one offered for Thursday afternoon. Tickets may be obtained of the members or at Edward Cashin's accessory store on the Strand.

Spencer's Business School Notes.

Frank Bonanno, an honor graduate of the shorthand and typewriting departments, has obtained a high salaried position as stenographer and typist in the Postmaster General's Department, Office of the Chief Clerk, Washington, D. C. Mr. Bonanno has accomplished wonderful results since his graduation from Spencer's.

Frank Decicco, another bright graduate of Spencer's has secured a very desirable situation as typist and general office assistant in the State Department at Washington, D. C. Large numbers of Spencer's graduates are serving the government with entire satisfaction. Many of the graduates hold excellent recommendations from former employers.

Miss Louise Cashdollar, of the shorthand department of Spencer's School has been placed in a good business position as stenographer and office assistant with Forsyth & Davis, stationery, Wall street, this city.

Many new pupils will start the mid-winter term which begins on January 2, and 5th. Several new typewriters have been recently purchased for the typewriting department. To train stenographers properly, students must have an abundance of daily practice in the latest methods, and it is the aim of the school always to give its pupils the best possible training so that they can step into high salaried positions and render satisfactory service

The school office will be open every business day for the registration of new pupils. Parents and others are cordially invited to inspect Spencer's new school quarters, corner Wall and John streets.

HEALTH OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

All the officers of the Board of Health of this city were re-elected at the annual meeting of that body held at the City Hall Monday afternoon. The meeting was an executive one, being held behind closed doors, it beginning about 4:30 o'clock and ending at 5:30. An increase of salary was voted to each officer excepting the plumbing inspector, his pay remaining at $6 a day for each day actually worked.

Those present were Mayor Canfield, president, ex-officio; and the following members: Mrs. Hattie Michael, Dr. Fred Huhne, John E. Mahar, Charles L. McBride, Frank Kaufman. Mr. Mahar acted as secretary. While the meeting was being held the various officers camped out in the court room of Judge Schirick. Because of illness Dr. E. E. Norwood, a member of the board, was unable to be present.

The following were unanimously re-elected as officers with salaries as fixed:

Health Officer—Dr. Frank A. Johnston, $1,500; former salary $1,200. Term four years, as the State Health law provides.

Secretary—Fred Sahloff, $1,200; former salary, $1,080. Mr. Sahloff is also the Registrar of Vital Statistics.

Sanitary Inspector—William H. Stork, $1,200; former salary, $900.

Public Health Nurse—Mrs. Mary O'Neil, $85 per month; former salary, $75 a month.

Assistant Secretary and Stenographer—Miss Loretta Nolan, $800; former salary, $660 a year.

Assistant to City Bacteriologist—Miss Evelyn M. Bugg, $800; former salary, $520 a year.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, Dec. 29.—A business meeting of the Epworth League will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Ganoung on Tuesday evening of this week, December 30 at 7:45. All members are cordially invited to be present.

The Christmas entertainment of the Methodist Sunday school given in the audience room of the M. E. Church on Tuesday evening of last week was well attended and the program under the direction of Dr. Amy Budd was nicely rendered. Thomas Towill of West Esopus with his daughters, Jacqueline and Muriel and son, Thomas W., gave the audience a rare treat in the musical part of the program. Their numbers were greatly appreciated and all hope to have the pleasure of hearing them again. Supervisor John H. Beaver impersonated Santa Claus. He was somewhat incapacitated. He said the last place he visited he fell down the chimney. As the fall affected his eyesight two young men of the school, George Holb and Harlowe McLean, removed the presents from the tree and Miss Helen Lund and Jennie Smith distributed them while Santa "rested" in a chair upon the platform. Each officer, teacher and scholar received a suitable gift, also a box of candy and a bag of popcorn. Teachers and their classes also exchanged presents and the spirit of Christmas seemed to pervade the entire school.

In a letter to a friend in this village, Louis J. DeVoe, formerly of West Esopus, but now of Elmhurst, L. I., states he is singing in the large chorus of "The Wayfarer" which is being presented at Madison Square Garden, New York city, during a period extending from December 15 to January 15. "The Wayfarer" now being given is adapted from the original great pageant shown in Columbus, Ohio, a few months ago, and is staged by Lawrence H. Rich.

Just before the sermon on Sunday evening the pastor of the M. E. Church, Rev. G. W. Budd, extended his sincere and hearty thanks to the people of this community for the numerous and generous gifts to himself and family. These remembrances began to arrive during the early forenoon on Wednesday and continued to come at intervals until after dark Christmas eve. The occurrence was a genuine surprise to the family and the favors are highly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Ousheltree of Port Ewen were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Beaver on Christmas Day.

Leslie E. Mott and family were guests of Mrs. Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George House of Union Center for Christmas.

By authority from the Newburgh district superintendent, Rev. Herbert E. Wright, Rev. G. W. Budd on Sunday morning appointed a judge, Rev. R. M. Roberts, and two tellers, John L. Schultz and John P. Ganoung, to officiate at an election to be held on Thursday evening, January 8, for the purpose of electing a delegate and reserve to the lay electoral conference to be held at the New York conference next spring. All members of the church over twenty years of age are expected to be present to vote at this election.

The stone foundation for the large garage to be erected for Peter M. Mott is being laid by Mr. Burger, a mason of Union Center, assisted by his corps of helpers. William C. McClain has the contract for the erection of the building and the work will be carried on as rapidly as the weather will permit.

Herbert Cole of Larchmont, N. Y., spent his Christmas vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cole. Miss Helen Cole was also home for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin have returned from their vacation.
